HIGH PRAISE GIVEN VALLEY POLTRY BY GOVERNMENT EXPERTS

MESA, June 8.—That they don't raise better chickens anywhere and that the poultry industry in the Salt River valley has a big future before it, was the statement of H. M. Lamson, in charge of the poultry work for the United States Department of Agriculture, who spent a greater part of yesterday in Mesa at the Mitchell Poultry farm, one of the largest in the state. Mr. Lamson was accompanied by D. W. Beeson, field photographer for the poultry department, and C. H. Cross, who is in charge of the poultry experiment station at Glendale, and all were hearty in their approval of conditions as they found them on the Mitchell farm.

Over 50,000 baby chicks have been hatched by the Mitchell concern this spring, said to be the largest output of any hatchery in the state, and 3,000 of these little chicks retained on the ranch, were inspected by the experts from Washington yesterday. An even larger number of full grown chickens on the farm were also looked over by Mr. Lamson and his party, and all were pronounced as good chickens as are raised anywhere. A large number of photographs showing the portable hen houses and other poultry equipment on the farm were made and will be exhibited by the poultry department in its work of furthering poultry production.

Warren Re-J. Appointed
City Marshal E. J. Warren, who has been acting in that office for the past two years, was re-appointed for another term at a meeting of the town council Monday evening. Applications from three other men, Ed Fong, Ernest Ellsworth and Guy Phelps, had been filed for the position. It is understood, but with the re-appointment of Warren by a unanimous vote, they were not considered. The re-appointment of G. W. Silverthorn as city attorney was also made. Appointments of city clerk and surveyor of public utilities was postponed for a few days pending a committee's investigation of the applications that have been made.

The trial of Augusto Nevaras, who was arrested Monday on a charge of shoplifting at the Toggery, was postponed from yesterday until Friday morning, when the county attorney will be able to attend. Nevaras is a keen admirer of silk shirts and was apprehended at the Toggery, where he is alleged to have stolen at least one and possibly more of the expensive shirts.

Wanted on Reservation
Joe Riveras was taken into custody at a local rooming house Monday night by Night Officer Shirk and an Indian officer on a charge preferred by the authorities on the Sacaton Indian reservation, where he is wanted for the alleged theft of $50 from the store there. Riveras was returned to the reservation yesterday.

"Pete Dog" Tonight
So popular was the farce comedy, "Purple Dog," presented at the high school auditorium Monday night, that it will be offered again tonight at the L. D. S. auditorium on West Main street. The Alma Ward is producing the play, using in the cast talent selected from all of the south. The audience Monday night gave hearty approval to the play and so thoroughly enjoyed it, that another presentation will be made tonight.

Today
Billie Burke in "The Misleading Widow" will be seen at the Majestic today. A comedy, "New Folks in Town," and a Burlesque Holms Travelogue is also included on the program.

Summer in Maine
E. P. Grover, of the Grover pool hall in Mesa, left Monday night for home in Southport, Maine, where he will spend the summer with his aged parents.

More than $300,000,000 has been spent by the Commonwealth in Melbourne, Australia, on returned soldiers and their dependents.

CHANDLER COUNCIL HOLDS A MEETING

CHANDLER, June 8.—The city council met on Monday evening at the chamber of commerce hall. All members were present, with the exception of Councilman Gardner, who is in the east.

Arthur E. Price was re-elected city attorney. The matter of appointing a city clerk, judge and city marshal was deferred until the next meeting. Other important matters were discussed and acted upon.

Messrs. Updike and Anderson, the owners of the Mission Chocolate Shop, extend a cordial invitation to the residents of the Salt River valley to attend the opening of their new confectionery and ice cream parlor, on Wednesday evening. The new store is a palace of sweets and is one of the finest of its kind in the state of Arizona.

A well known orchestra of the valley will furnish the music for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Lubin departed on a trip through the northwest on Monday. They expect to be gone about two months.

A number of the members of the younger social set spent a very pleasant day at Riverside park on Sunday. Among those present were the Misses Mabel and Nora Chittwood, E. Ekers, and Messrs. Irving Mason, Sam Fillion and Arthur Brooks. Among others from Chandler who spent the day at the park were Messrs. Leland Enright, Roy Dickson, Jack Brackett and Floyd Gibson.

WHOLESALE PRICES
Oriental and French printed georgette waists are offered by New York wholesalers at $2.75, and lace trimmed georgette blouses are sold at the same price.

The whole-sale selling price of dresses of combined material printed georgette and tulle, is $11.75 each.

AMUSEMENTS
Riverside Park
With King Brady himself on the job, the Riverside dance music is in the hands of the most competent jazz musician who ever visited Phoenix. For King Brady's orchestra stands without a peer in the estimation of those of the city who appreciate excellence in dance music. King Brady is the boy who first introduced the jazz music to Phoenix dancers, and he leaped to the foremost position as a real king of the ivories, a position which has never been contested. His position he constantly makes more secure through his wonderful appreciation and knowledge of what dance music requires.

The Hip
Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, in the thrilling series of "Daredevil Jack" pictures, leads off the Hip's bill for today and tomorrow, where he will be seen in the thirteenth episode of the story. Dempsey is an actor, he has proven that, and more forcibly demonstrates it with each installment of this set of thrilling adventure pictures. The present picture carries him further on his way of vengeance and adventure and reveals him still relentlessly pursuing his chosen work of bringing to justice the man responsible for his father's fate. Impassioned and for the danger to his sweetheart's life.

Strand
Can any picture follower imagine, dainty, delightful saucy quaint Billie Burke "wanting a husband"? That's exactly what she is up against in her latest photoplay, "Wanted, a Husband," which will hold the screen at the Strand for today and tomorrow. Of all the screen comedienne, Billie Burke is perhaps the most appreciated for her wonderful versatility and her irrepressible vivaciousness lend to her work a charm that is as emphatic as it is insistent, as far reaching as it is subtle and in "Wanted, a Husband" she has a role entirely in keeping with her recognized abilities.

The Paramount Magazine and the Pathe News are the added features.

When "The Unpardonable Sin" was shown not long ago much interest attached to the work of Blanche Sweet, who made in it her re-debut to the screen after an absence of approximately two years. Reviews and criticisms of the big Rupert Hughes story production were unanimous in the expression that Miss Sweet showed remarkable power as an emotional actress. Those who have seen both "The Unpardonable Sin" and "The Hushed Hour" point out that if Miss Sweet's individual work in "The Unpardonable Sin" was worthy of such high praise then the play which will be hers after "The Hushed Hour" has been introduced with unquestionably her mark with the foremost screen actresses of the day. There is a most unusual cast. "The Hushed Hour" will be shown for the last time today at the Columbia.

The first of a series of special short-reel features picturizing America's most widely read and highest paid writer will be shown at the Columbia today when "A Good Fellow," first issue of the Herbert Kaufman Weekly, will be presented. This weekly is designed to bring home to telling pictures the forceful writings of Kaufman, whose epigrams and straight-from-the-shoulder logic have inspired hundreds of thousands of Americans to strike the high road to success.
